Company will promptly notify Trimble if it determines that it can no longer meet its obligations under this Addendum and/or applicable US Data Protection Laws with respect to Trimble Information provided to Company by Trimble or on Trimble’s behalf. To the extent required by applicable US Data Protection Laws, if Trimble reasonably determines that Company is using Trimble Information in a manner not authorized under the Agreement and this Addendum, upon Trimble’s request in writing or by email Company will cease any unauthorized use unless and until remediated, and will reasonably cooperate with Trimble’s remediation efforts. The Parties agree that the provision or other transfer of Trimble Information to Company by Trimble or on Trimble’s behalf does not constitute a sale of such information to, or sharing of such information with, Company. Trimble will have the right to modify this Addendum by posting a new version of this Addendum in the Trimble Privacy Center; unless Company objects to such modifications in writing within thirty (30) calendar days of the date such new version is posted, as of the end of such notice period such modified version will supersede this version.
